

REPORT PEDRO SANCHEZ

JESUS' BAPTISM

Dear Brothers and sisters,

I want you to know the indescribable thankfulness I carry to God for all of you in response to His provision through you all in supporting me and my family this year physically and spiritually. As described by Paul in Philippians 4 I know your sacrifices in doing this are a fragrant offering for our Lord.

I want to report that my physical health continues to improve, I am still having regular physical therapy and check ups but the doctor is having a harder and harder time hearing evidence of pulmonary fibrosis every visit! So praise God for his healing hand over my life.

WILSON'S FAMILY

In the work I have been doing several 4 day conferences online, in Ecuador and Colombia, continuing my weekly online study of 1 John and continue the occasional preaching and guest speaking commitments on online platforms. Glory to God vary rarely are there less then 90 people connected to zoom and at our United worship service online we had 270 people connected to zoom and many more viewing for Facebook. It is incredible how broad the ability to reach souls is through these online platforms.

I am over joyed with the great work of Mission Chile and the support of Churches of Christ throughout our nation, we have sent and funded our first local missionary to a church plant in Antofagasta! The church welcomed him with open arms, tears and even met some of his household needs. The church there is very excited to have their first full time minister and very grateful to the Churches United in love throughout Chile to do so. In the same generous spirit.

MASARU'S FAMILY

The Nogales Church of Christ have dedicated themselves with some financial help from brethren overseas as well in hiring Masaru Guzman as another full time Evangelist. I do not know a more purehearted hard working individual and God has opened doors for him to dedicate himself to growing the kingdom not only in Chile but also working with Evo in other Latin American countries as well. I am so proud of all our Evangelists and their continued dedication to constantly spread the gospel and baptize new believers into Salvation.

My son Pablo, Raul Díaz, Masaru and many others who are dear friends to us from fellow congregations are tirelessly working hard to keep at reaching the list and strengthening the body. It is a blessing to be working among them.

We are so blessed how God has been equipping us here in Chile in everyday meeting our every need with every spiritual blessing. I pray you all continue to be blessed the same way and even more abundantly as His return approaches.

Big hugs my brethren,

Pedro Sánchez
